Report on activities of the Board of Directors

Another year has passed, and we can already affirm that this one will also hold a special place in history. Not only because of the assassination attempt on Trump during the campaign, which places him alongside names like Roosevelt, Truman, and Reagan, but also because, like them, his presidency will have far-reaching consequences on U.S. domestic and foreign policies, reshaping the turbulent global geopolitical landscape. Undoubtedly, and as we have been warning, geopolitics and increased government intervention will be the defining factors dominating the mindset of investors and markets in the coming months.

Trump's return to the White House refocuses attention on the yuan and China's trade surplus, a country he previously accused of being a currency manipulator. This heralds a new order where the main objective is to reduce the U.S.'s significant trade deficit. In this environment, we are also witnessing the exhaustion caused by inflationary and solidarist policies on consumers, investors, and states globally. The electoral shift we are observing, including the collapse of the German and French governments, reflects a consumer base voting more with their wallets than with their hearts. As central banks globally restart a coordinated cycle of rate cuts, investors are forced to seek refuge in assets that shield them from excessive monetary and fiscal policies.

This brings us to a new paradigm, where, much like in old mercantilist systems, economic decisions driven by free markets and corporate profit maximization are being replaced by needs arising from power struggles in favor of the Nation-State. We will witness efforts by states to secure strategic resources and implement new trade, industrial, and technological policies to strengthen their position in this new world order.

We are entering a new era where states will seek unconventional solutions to high deficits and debt levels. A world with mercantilist overtones, where governments will play a central role in the economy, strengthening their control over trade and resources, favoring strategic monopolies, and implementing protectionist policies. Thus, having robust risk management will once again be crucial.

Growth data from the Eurozone continues to highlight the weak state of its economy, characterized by regulatory rigidity, lack of innovation, and energy resource shortages. To these deficiencies, we must add the risks emerging from the transition to a low-emission economy, which will impact businesses and households alike in the coming years. The U.S., by contrast, not only continues to sustain positive growth thanks to the massive fiscal stimulus of the Biden administration but has also attracted significant investment inflows following Trump's victory. This has left the Fed puzzled, unable to "tame" the economy with conventional measures, adopting a data-dependent stance.

In a global environment where structural deflationary forces continue to challenge economic stability (Switzerland, China, Europe...), states are adopting new strategies to attempt to revitalize growth, increase inflation, and thereby deflate their overwhelming levels of debt.

Through increases in the minimum wage and the aforementioned reindustrialization policies, these governments aim to implement measures that boost investment and initiate a cycle of demand growth (with varying degrees of success), generating higher inflation readings and allowing them to escape the debt trap they are currently in. With these mercantilist policies, they are attempting to counteract the strong deflationary pressures driven by factors such as aging populations, technology, globalization, stagnant wages, or excessive indebtedness.

Meanwhile, despite core inflation readings stabilizing around 2.7% in Europe and 2.8% in the U.S. (Core PCE), we must get used to Central Bank projections showing convergence toward the target. This will allow them to continue reducing interest rates with the dual objective of lowering financing costs for both public and private sectors and stimulating economies that are overly reliant on fiscal stimulus.

In this environment, where markets are pricing in only two rate cuts in the U.S. over the next 12 months and almost five in Europe, the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index ended the year with a decline of -1.69%, while the Bloomberg Barclays European Aggregate Index rose by +2.63%. This leaves 10-year government bond yields at 3.06% for Spain, 2.37% for Germany, and 4.57% for the U.S.

As we have consistently warned, maintaining strong risk management is indispensable for successfully navigating the uncertain landscape we face. Current high valuations and the widespread sentiment of FOMO (Fear of Missing Out) clearly reflect the emotional tension dominating the market. These impulses, which are more emotional than rational, underscore the inherent dangers of investing in assets with asymmetrical potential returns, which are highly susceptible to sharp reversals in response to shifts in perception or the prevailing narrative.

For now, the market has chosen to focus on the positive side of the measures announced by the new Trump administration—such as tax cuts or sectoral deregulation. However, it is crucial not to overlook the latent risks in an environment marked by certain cracks in the labor market and consumer confidence. A renewed trade and tariff war, potential cuts to public spending, or the uncertainty generated by a stricter immigration policy, including mass deportations, are factors that could dramatically upset the balance of financial markets. Should these risks materialize, current valuations may be perceived as unjustifiably inflated, exposing investors to the reality of high-risk events that have accompanied us in recent years.

As long-term U.S. rates converge with nominal growth levels, rigorous risk management and objective analysis, free from the prevailing narrative, remain essential for navigating a financial world where collective psychology weighs as heavily as economic data.

PERFORMANCE

The fund delivered a return of 1.70% in Class A during the year, compared to -1.69% for the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index.

At the end of the year we reduced the fund's duration to 3.75 years, partly by taking profits on the long end of the European curve and partly by executing the stop-loss on UK government debt following the budget presented by the new Labour government. Despite all expectations and following the crisis experienced in 2022, they have once again leaned toward increased public spending and significant minimum wage hikes in hopes of revitalizing the struggling UK economy.

As we mentioned at the beginning of the year, 2024 was going to be a year of improvement for the fixed income markets. The repricing of the expected cuts that took place during the first half, paved the way for a better third quarter until the Fed reduced rates by 50 basis points, tighteting financial conditions, steepening the curve and initiating a run towards 5% of the long end. The volatility of inflation data amid the disinflationary process, coupled with the strong fiscal stimulus from the Biden administration and Trump's resounding victory, has left the Fed puzzled, unable to "tame" the economy with conventional measures. This has led the Fed to shift its rhetoric, adopting a data-dependent stance, which introduces even greater interest rate volatility.

During the year, the impact of the unwind of the carry trade in emerging markets was one of the factors that most influenced the fund's performance at a strategic level. A significant portion of this loss is explained by the Zero-Coupon bonds in Brazil and Mexico. However, Turkey and India, and especially South Africa, helped mitigate the losses. Dollar hedges, despite maintaining a slight exposure of around 5% to the greenback, also detracted from the fund's returns during 2024. UK 10-year debt and U.S. inflation-linked bonds were among the worst-performing investments.

On the positive side, subordinated financials and credit in investment-grade corporate and financial papers contributed significantly to the fund's gains during the year. Certain convertible bonds, such as those from IAG and Prysmian, performed particularly well over the period. Additionally, domestic ABS provided solid returns, supported by continued strong dynamics in this space. Lastly, some issuers on the long end of the U.S. curve, such as Intesa or Nokia, had a remarkable year despite the poor performance of duration throughout the year.

POSITIONING AND OUTLOOK

As rumors of the Bond Vigilantes resurface due to the precarious fiscal positions of countries such as the UK, France, and the United States, we believe that the strengthening of the dollar does not fit neatly into this narrative. In the case of the U.S., an oasis of growth in a world that is stagnating, and despite its weak fiscal position, long-term rates are converging toward nominal growth levels of an economy on steroids (±5%), resulting in a steepening of the curve. This presents an opportunity to invest in the U.S. curve now that the presidential race has concluded, in a world where consensus is increasingly unattractive due to the high asymmetry of potential returns.

As we argued, it is essential not to lose sight of the latent risks. The situation of a labor market overly dependent on public procurement and a consumer already maxed out could quickly deteriorate due to cuts in public spending, a renewed trade war, or tensions arising from the new migration policy, among other factors. If these risks materialize, current valuations could be perceived as unjustifiably inflated, triggering a flight-to-quality and exposing investors to the reality of high-risk events that have become so frequent in recent years.

Whether governments will succeed in their attempts to revitalize growth, combat structural deflationary forces, and deflate their massive debt loads remains to be seen. What does seem clear, however, is that regardless of the outcome, gradually allocating capital to high-quality assets offering positive real interest rates is the best strategy to shield against the threats posed by excessive monetary and fiscal policies.

It is precisely due to this asymmetry that, over the course of the year, we have progressively increased portfolio quality and reduced subordination. We have also favored inflation-linked bonds, especially as U.S. inflation yields exceeded 2.10% again. Historically, episodes of steepening in curves as flat as the current ones have signaled the onset of economic recessions and are typically accompanied by significant declines in long-term real and nominal rates. This aligns well with government needs for reduced real interest rates to revive their economies and deflate their massive debt burdens. Finally, we increased the quasi-liquidity buffer to 30% in the last quarter as we took profits from much of the fund's subordinated exposure, reducing positions in CoCos, LT2, and hybrids.

In terms of names, we took profits on a significant portion of our CoCo investments and subordinated debt, both financial and corporate, due to the narrow spreads at which they were trading. On the sales side, we also took profits on South African and Indian government debt, thereby reducing our emerging market exposure. On the buy side, we added exposure to agency and intermediate-term European government debt, given the limited extra yield offered by corporate credit. In Europe, we also took profits on part of our Italian debt positions, both nominal and inflation linked.

We continue to favor quality over subordination, especially given the narrow spreads and asymmetric risks presented by credit in the face of a deteriorating economic and geopolitical landscape. Despite short-term data volatility, we believe the deflationary process should continue to unfold as high interest rates take their toll on economies.

At the end of the quarter, the portfolio's yield to maturity stands at 3.96%, with a duration of 3.77 years and a cash coupon flow of 2.4%. The portfolio's weighted average price is 90.2 cents per euro. The exposure to the U.S. dollar is 4.8%.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Deloitte.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

The Management Company has appointed MIRALTA ASSET MANAGEMENT SGIIC, SAU, as the Investment Manager of the Sub-Fund (the "Investment Manager").

as at 31st December 2024

The Investment Manager is entitled to an investment management fee calculated and accrued on each Valuation Day and payable quarterly in arrears on the basis of the average Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund, respectively the relevant Class within the Sub-Fund, at a rate of up to:

Sub-Fund	Class A	Class C	Class F

The investment management fee is payable whether or not the management of the relevant Sub-Fund is profitable.

Note 4 - Performance fees

The Investment Manager is entitled to a Performance fee calculated and accrued on each Valuation Day and payable yearly in arrears on the basis of the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund, respectively the relevant Class within the Sub-Fund.

The Investment Manager may receive for the relevant Class of the Sub-fund a Performance fee, paid annually, based on the net asset value per share (NAV per share), equivalent to 7% of the positive performance of the Sub-Fund Class A EUR and Class C against the High Water Mark. The Performance fee calculation will also take into account crystallization. The crystallisation frequency (i.e. the frequency at which the accrued Performance fee, if any, becomes payable to the Investment Manager) is once a year.

The Performance fee is calculated in respect of each accounting year (the "Calculation Period"), i.e. from 1st of January to 31st of December each year. The first Calculation Period for the relevant Class of the Sub-Fund begins on the date of the first NAV and will end on the first 31st of December after a minimum period of 12 months.

The Performance Reference Period is the time horizon over which the performance is measured and compared with that of the reference indicator, at the end of which the mechanism for the compensation for past underperformance (or positive performance below the HWM) can be reset. The Performance Reference Period is set to 5 years.

The Performance fee is calculated and accrued at each Net Asset Value calculation, provided that the current Net Asset Value per share of the relevant Class of Shares is higher than the High Watermark (as defined below), on the basis of the gross assets determined on each Valuation Day after deducting all expenses, the management fee (but not the Performance fee) and adjusting for subscriptions, redemptions, dividends (if applicable) and conversions (if applicable) on the relevant Valuation Day so that these will not affect the Performance fee payable.

At the date of the financial statements, a Performance fee was recorded for the Sub-Fund and amounted to:

Sub-Fund	Share Class	Performance fee amount in Sub- Fund currency	Performance fee ratio in % of average total net assets
MIRALTA SICAV - SEQUOIA	Class A	55,645.61	0.16%

1 - Risk management

As required by Circular CSSF 11/512 as amended, the Board of Directors of the Fund needs to determine the global risk exposure of the Fund by applying either the commitment approach or the VaR ("Value at Risk") approach.

In terms of risk management, the Board of Directors of the Fund decided to adopt the commitment approach as a method of determining the global exposure.

2 - Remuneration

The Management Company has established a remuneration policy for those categories of staff, including senior management, risk takers, control functions, and any employees receiving total remuneration that takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior management and risk takers and whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profiles of the Management Company or the Fund, that are consistent with and promote sound and effective risk management and do not encourage risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profiles or the Fund's Management Regulations.

The remuneration policy is in line with the business strategy, objectives, values and interests of the Management Company and the Fund and of its shareholders, and includes measures to avoid conflicts of interest.

The variable remuneration is granted on the basis of the results of the performance assessment process. It shall be based on relevant, pre-determined and measurable criteria linked to the Management Company's corporate values, business strategy goals, long-term interests of its shareholders and clients, and risk management.

The remuneration policy also ensures that fixed and variable components of total remuneration are appropriately balanced and the fixed component represents a sufficiently high proportion of the total remuneration to allow the operation of a fully flexible policy on variable remuneration components, including the possibility to pay no variable remuneration component.

This remuneration policy takes into account the principle of proportionality, which allows procedures, mechanisms and organisational structure to be calibrated to the nature, scale and complexity of the Management Company's business and to the nature and range of activities carried out in the course of its business.

Remuneration data for the year ended 31st December 2024:

	Headcount	Fixed Remuneration	Variable Remuneration

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The investment objective of the MIRALTA SICAV - SEQUOIA (the "Sub-Fund") is to provide medium-term capital appreciation through a diversified portfolio of private and public fixed income and fixed income-related instruments. While the Sub-Fund does not have sustainable investment as its objective, it integrates ESG criteria and sustainability risk considerations in line with Article 8 of the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector ("SFDR"), ensuring an extra-financial approach that promotes environmental and social characteristics within its fixed income investment strategy.

The Sub-Fund allocated 95.53% of its assets through an ESG prior assessment, ensuring that investments met predefined environmental, social and governance (ESG) valuation criteria.

This assessment systematically integrated factors such as environmental policy and actions, results on action plans, employer brand attractiveness, employee retention, management team competence and counter-power.

While the Sub-Fund did not focus on a specific environmental or social theme, it actively contributed to the promotion of various UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). 90.11% of the positions (cash excluded) in the Sequoia portfolio score above 70 in at least two of the targeted SDG goals:

- 05.05. Ensure Full Participation in Leadership and Decision-making.

- 16.05. Substantially reduce corruption and bribery.

The Sub-Fund has not designated a reference benchmark for the purpose of attaining the environmental and social chararacteristics promoted.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund did not use specific sustainability indicators to avoid disaggregation of individual objectives related to the SDGs.

By promoting SDGs, the Sub-Fund aimed to exert indirect pressure on issuers to adopt sustainable best practices. Indeed, avoiding investing in companies that do not comply with the sustainable agenda means that such companies will see a direct impact in the form of higher borrowing costs, which will encourage them to work towards these changes.

Throughout the reporting period, the investment management team regularly assessed portfolio holdings to ensure compliance with the Sub-Fund's ESG criteria. This evaluation was conducted using external ESG reports, public disclosures, stakeholder feedback (including NGOs, regulatory bodies, and press reports), and issuer sustainability reports.

Portfolio reviews were convened at least quarterly, ensuring that the ESG characteristics were continuously monitored and that investments aligned with the Sub-Fund's ESG approach.

The following tables provides an overview prevailing binding investment criteria:

Not applicable.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and antibribery matters.

The following Principal Adverse Impacts (PAI) indicators were considered for investments qualyfing under #1B in the section "What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?"

Principal Adverse Impact	Impact in 2024:
2. Carbon Footprint	251.04 tonne CO2e / EUR M invested
3. GHG intensity of investee companies	529.84 tonne CO2e / EUR M revenue
10. Violations of UN Global Compact principles and Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises	0.60 %
12. Unadjusted gender pay gap	5.35 %
13. Board Gender Diversity	14.71 %
14. Exposure to controversial weapons (antipersonnel mines, cluster munitions, chemical weapons, and biological weapons)	0.00 %
15. GHG intensity of investee countries	198.06189 tonne CO2e / EUR M GDP

The contribution of individual positions to the following principal adverse impacts is analysed, identifying those that stand out negatively (last quartile compared to their peers) to assess whether any considerations need to be taken accordingly: Carbon Footprint, GHG Intensity, UNGC Violations, Gender Pay Gap, Board Gender Diversity, and Exposure to Controversial Weapons, and for government bonds, Country GHG Intensity. Of the 68 issuers analysed through Clarity, 24 (35.29%) would be in the last quartile compared to their peers in at least one of the analysed PAIs (Deutsche Bank AG, Fcc Servicios Medio Ambiente Holding SA, Standard Chartered PLC, Anglo American Capital PLC, Banco Comercial Portugues SA, Banco de Credito Social Cooperativo SA, Bankinter SA, BBVA Global Finance Ltd, Caixa Economica Montepio Geral - Caixa Economica Bancaria SA, Elo SA, Ibercaja Banco SA, Nokia Oyj, Schneider Electric SE, Solvay SA, Telefonaktiebolaget LM Ericsson, Unicaja Banco SA, Zalando SE, ArcelorMittal SA, Banco Santander SA, Commerzbank AG, EasyJet FinCo BV, EQT AB, Fidelidade Companhia de Seguros SA, and MERLIN Properties SOCIMI SA).

Among them, the ones that stand out negatively are Deutsche Bank AG, Fcc Servicios Medio Ambiente Holding SA and Standard Chartered PLC, which are positioned in the last quartile across three different PAIs (M12 - Unadjusted gender pay gap, M3 - GHG intensity of investee companies, and M2 - Carbon footprint). Schneider Electric SE is listed as internationally sanctioned in the Clarity application for violations of UNGC principles. However, a deeper search in Bloomberg reveals that this is not the case now. Therefore, we now consider that out of the 68 issuers analyzed, only 23 (33.82%) are in the last quartile for at least one of these PAIs. Consequently, we can estimate that 66.18% of the issuers comply with the PAI analysis for the portfolio. Those that do not comply are reported and reviewed by the sustainability committee on a periodic basis.

- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.
