Risk and Reward Profile

The sub-fund is subject to the following risks:

• Liquidity risk: Securities may become less liquid during extreme market conditions and it may be difficult for unitholders to get redemption proceeds in a timely manner.

• Counterparty risk: Risk that the counterparty to mutually agreed contracts does not meet its obligations.

• Operational risk: Risk of material loss resulting from human error, technical faults, inappropriate procedures or controlling.

• Currency risk: Investments in securities denominated in currencies other than the Sub-fund's Base Currency may be subject to adverse fluctuation in currency exchange rates.

• Emerging markets: may be subject to increased political, regulatory and economic instability, less developed custody and settlement practices, poor transparency and greater financial risks. As a consequence emerging markets securities may be subject to higher volatility and lower liquidity than non-emerging markets securities.

• Duplication of certain fees and expenses: Where investments are made in other funds, this might result in duplication of certain fees and expenses for investors. Investors are also subject to potential risks associated with such funds.

• Market risk: The value of assets in the Portfolio is typically dictated by a number of factors, including the confidence levels of the market in which they are traded.
